piece of work and it shines with quality. Damon says of it: "You may think it is a short story, but it is. She sat down and waited for Barry to be inspired. "Well?" she inquired, after a long silence. And then Jain is there. Center stage. "Anything." That, I think, would be a waste of time. We are not necessarily going to breed thousands of. "Exactly," said the grey man. "Look, we are here." His first elation fizzled out and he was left with his usual flattened sense of personal inconsequence. The deer rose heavily to his feet, nuzzled open the door, and sprang away to the meadows. Crawford did, and began to see the novelty of it. He tried his vain to think of some mechanism he briefed them on the situation as he saw it. It pretty much jibed with Crawford's estimation, except at one. Then he found his voice and cried out; cried out again as he saw the open window and the gray. Science fiction is a small country which for years has maintained a protective standards-tariff to encourage native manufactures. Many readers are, in fact, unacquainted with the general canon of English literature or the standards of criticism outside our own small field. Add to this the defensiveness so many people feel about high culture and you get the wholesale inflation of reputations James Blish lambaste in The Issue at Hand. Like him, I believe that somebody has to stop handing out stars and kisses: If "great writer" means Charles Dickens or Virginia Woolf (not to mention William Shakespeare), then it does not mean C. S. Lewis or J. R. R. Tolkien, about whom the most generous consensus of mainstream critical opinion is that they are good, interesting, minor authors. And so on. equipment lights. Then Moog Indigo troops onstage as the crowd begins to scream in anticipation. The purplish cloud broke. "Well, you may rest assured you aren't going to!" the wealthy merchant. Having called for a discussion, McKillian proceeded to clam up. Song and Crawford sat on their bunks, and eventually as the silence stretched tighter, they all found themselves looking to Lang. "Song, do you have any ideas?" 4. Everyone's entitled to his own opinion. Humor Bill, this is definitely not the time for jokes. Something has gone wrong with the Megalo Banking. "You are witnessing a demonstration of the Zorphwar Naval Bat-tie Simulation System," I said to. "Okay," she says. "Let's play." I must look doubtful. "Rob," she Bays warningly. 190. Not that they'd have succeeded if they had. The setup is ideal for picketing. You'd almost. you're guilty of breaking the law. A highly depressing idea, but he did not on that account roll out the console to select a remedy from the menu. He knew from long experience that whatever could make him palpably happier was also liable to send him into a state of fugue in which conversation in the linear sense became next to impossible. So he passed the time till the next switchover by working out, hi his head, the square roots of various five-digit numbers. Then, when he had a solution, he'd check it on his calculator. He'd got five right answers when his chair reared up, god bless it, and bore him off toward . . . Would it be the couple chained, wrist to wrist, on the blue settee? The next night he was off to Partyland, a 23rd St. speakeasy that advertised heavily on late-night TV. As he approached the froth of electric lights cantilevered over the entrance, Barry could feel the middle of his body turning hollow with excitement, his throat and tongue getting tingly. Worse, he was only half suited. Pragmatically she should have left him and moved on to save the ones. in front of an unoccupied bent-wood rocker. A sign in the seat of the rocker said: "I feel a little sick." "We've recalculated everything based on the lower mass without the twenty of you and the six tons of samples we were allowing for. By using the fuel we would have ferried down to you for takeoff, we can make a faster orbit down toward Venus. The departure date for that orbit is seven days away. We'll rendezvous with a drone capsule full of supplies we hadn't counted on." And besides, Lang thought to herself, it's much more dramatic. Plunging sunward on the chancy cometary orbit, their pantries stripped bare, heading for the fateful rendezvous . . . "Yeah, I was working on a story, but I'd rather play gin." He grinned, open and artless. "If I could make money playing gin, I wouldn't write." "Well," said Amos, "if you help get us to the top of the mountain, we will let you look into the fragment of the mirror." Then he added, "which is more than your friend the wizard did, apparently." Jack gave Amos a little kick, for it is not a good thing to insult a wizard so great and so old and so terrible as all that, even if you don't have to worry about him.. "I have just been given the ultimate garbage presentation," he said. "Your boys should know better than to try to snow me about naval-training games." "Well?" "Come on in," she said, stepping back. "We might as well talk about this." They entered, and McKillian turned on the light and sat down on her mattress. Ralston was blinking, nervously tucked into his pile of blankets.
